

Football

By Matthew [REDACTED]

I had a dream
I was on a football team.
The wide receiver
caught a fever.
I tried to make a touchdown.
I got tackled and made a frown.
There was a nice referee,
who had a small pet monkey.
The monkey did the best of all,
and the other team dropped the ball.
The monkey grabbed the ball real fast,
he scored a touchdown that was last.
The band threw their instruments into the air.
We won the game and went to the fair.
